Heavy Snow

A low pressure system which developed over Kansas and Nebraska during the late afternoon on the 18th, moved into eastern Iowa by the late evening hours on the 19th. A narrow 10 to 20 mile wide band of heavy snow in the 6 to 7 inch category blanketed the region. The axis of the heavy snow extended from Belgrade (Stearns County) to 10 miles east of Woodland (Kanabec County). Amounts include 5.0 inches in Albany, 5.5 inches in Little Falls, 6.0 inches in Page, 6.5 inches in Belgrade, and 7.0 inches 5 miles east of Woodland.
